Purpose of the processing and the legal basis for the processing

Your information is being used by Merseytravel to process your booking, and we are able to do this due to a legal obligation that we have to comply with Maritime Regulations.

In the case of any special category processing, your information is processed to ensure the equality of opportunity or treatment.

Description of the categories of personal data

The categories of information being processed include your name, postal address and email address.

In addition, we may also process some ‘special categories’ of your personal data, such as information related to your health in order for us to provide you with any necessary assistance.

Any recipient or categories of recipients of the personal data

In the event of an emergency occurring while on board, your information will be shared with relevant bodies to provide any necessary assistance to you.

Retention period or criteria used to determine the retention period

Your data will be kept only for the duration of your cruise. This retention has been determined by the Maritime Regulations.

The existence of each of data subject’s rights

The GDPR provides you with the following rights when it comes to your personal data:

- The right to be informed how your personal data is being processed

- The right of access to the personal data we hold about you, which includes providing copies of the information to you within one month of a request. We may charge a reasonable fee to provide this information based on our administrative costs of responding (i.e. photocopying, postage, etc.).
- The right to rectification of any incorrect or incomplete data we hold about you
- The right to erasure, also known as ‘the right to be forgotten’, where
  - Your information is no longer required for the purpose it was collected
  - You withdraw your consent
  - You object to Merseytravel processing your information (and there is no overriding legitimate interest for continuing the processing)
  - Merseytravel has breached the GDPR when processing your data
  - There is a legal obligation to delete the data (such as a court order)
- The right to restrict processing, which limits what Merseytravel can do with your information
- The right to data portability, where any automated processing of your information based on your consent or as part of a contract is made available for your reuse
- The right to object to direct marketing or any processing based on the performance of a task in the public interest/exercise of official authority or for the purposes of scientific/historical research and statistics.
- Rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling, where a decision made by a computer has a legal or significant effect on you.

The right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority

You have the right to lodge a complaint regarding the processing of your personal data to the UK’s supervisory authority, the Information Commissioner, who can be reached using the details below:
